

Program 2024

Date	Presenter and topic
18.01.2024	Carlo Miniussi (University of Torino, Italy) Harnessing Transcranial Electrical Stimulation for the recovery of cognitive functions: The current state
29.02.2024	Marlene Behrman (Carnegie Mellon University, Pittsburgh, USA) What can a single isolated hemisphere accomplish cognitively?
21.03.2024	Simone Shamai Tsoory (University of Haifa, Israel) Neural bases of empathy
18.04.2024	Anna Abraham (University of Georgia, USA) Neuropsychology of creativity
30.05.2024	Branch Coslett (University of Pennsylvania, USA) Disorders of body representations
20.06.2024	Angela Sirigu (University of Lyon, France) The role of parietal lobes in action planning and motor awareness
29.08.2024	Sonja Kotz (Maastricht University, NL) Brain mechanisms of phantom perception
12.09.2024	Joke Spikman (University of Groningen, NL) Rehabilitation of disorders in social cognition after TBI
26.09.2024	Sarah MacPherson (University of Edinburgh, UK) The use of immersive virtual reality in neuropsychological assessment: Development of the Virtual Reality Everyday Assessment Lab (VR-EAL)
17.10.2024	Martha J. Farah (University of Pennsylvania, USA) Socioeconomic status through the lens of neuroscience and neuropsychology
14.11.2024	Edward de Haan (Radboud University, Nijmegen, NL) Frequent and less frequent visual deficits after stroke
05.12.2024	Mieke Verfaellie (Boston University, USA) Alterations in memory and future thinking in PTSD

Note: All speakers confirmed, titles may be subject to change. Please send any comments to academy@neuropsych.ch